Workers' Union, 27B Circular Garden Reach Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta. Government order No. 4184-I.R./IR/11L-95(B) 59, dated the 8th August 1960. (Case No. VIII-368 60.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. Mitra, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri P. P. Pathak.

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Deputy Labour Adviser of the Indian Engineering Association.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Ingot Co. Private Ltd., 5 Hide Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta-23 and their workmen represented by J. Stone & B. I. C. Workers' Union, 27-B Circular Garden Reach Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta, over the following issue, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4184-I.R./IR/III-95(B)/59, dated the 8th August 1960.

Issue

(1) Whether the dismissal of the workmen named in the attached list is justified? To what relief if any, are they entitled?

AWARD

After service of usual notices upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statement, the workmen represented by J. Stone & B. I. C. Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the union), filed their written statement on the 12th September 1960. It is contended by the Union in the written statement that the workers mentioned in the order of reference were all permanent employees of the Company and they happened to be the leaders of the Union. It is further contended that the workmen in serial numbers 1 to 14 had been charge-sheeted by the Company to which they submitted replies denying the charges and after that the Company held an enquiry, which was neither fair nor proper, and dismissed them.

The Company filed an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act before the Fifth Industrial Tribunal praying for approval of the order of dismissal passed by the Company with respect to the workmen in serial numbers 1 to 14, which became functus officio, for which the latter could not be heard. Similarly, the management charge-sheeted the workmen in serial numbers 15 to 17 and decided to dismiss them after holding departmental enquiry and filed an application under section 33(2) (b) for seeking approval of the action taken by the management, which met the same fate. It is contended by the Union that none of these workmen was guilty of the charges brought against them, and that the Company's action was illegal, mala fide and against all principles of natural justice. The petition filed, along with the written statement, the copies of the applications under section 33(2)(b) filed by the Company as well as the replies given thereto by the workmen concerned which are marked Annexures A, B and C.

The Bengal Ingot Company (hereinafter referred to as the Company) filed their written statement on the 10th October 1960. It is contended by the Company that the workmen mentioned in serial numbers 1 to 11 in the order of reference along with some others attacked the lorry carrying some loyal workers to the factory, on the 7th November 1957, causing damage to the lorry and injuries to the loyal workers in that lorry by throwing brickbats at them, and for this they were charge-sheeted. Some of those workmen, Shri Devdas Banerjee (serial No. 4), Shri Bahadur (serial No. 9) Shri Chandra Bahadur (serial No. 11) submitted explanation to the charges. The workman in serial number 10, Sk. Amajuddin, was charge-sheeted for another incident amounting to misconduct which took place on 17th October 1957. The incident was that the workmen were on stay-in strike on a demand that some suspended workmen of Messrs. J. Stone & should be taken back in the employment. When the Director of the Company along with other officers approached the strikers to explain to them that such strike was unjustified and illegal, Sk. Amajuddin threatened that if any worker, an trio work, he would have to suffer serious consequences. Sk. Amajuddin replied to the charges except in respect of the incident of the 17th October. Company held proper enquiry on different days in presence of the workers affording him all facies for defence and came to a finding that the workman was guilty of gross misconduct and, accordingly, dismissed him from service by its letter, dated the 28th August 1958. So far as the workmen in serial numbers 1 to 14 are concerned the version of the Company is that on the 12th December 1957 at about 7-15 P.M. while one Haripada Sarkar, an employee of Messrs. J. Stone & Co. who used to bring the loyal workers for Messrs. Bengal Ingot & Co. in lorry during the period of strike, was going home on bicycle, these three workers along with others attacked and assaulted him at the corner of Howrah Road and Jain Kunja near the factory and took away his bicycle. The management, for such misconduct charge-sheeted these three workmen and others. As against this charge only the workmen Shri Nathuni Mia (serial No. 14) gave reply. The management, after holding proper enquiry found them guilty and dismissed them.

So far as the workmen in serial numbers 15 to 17 are concerned the contention of the Company is that the workers in the Casting Foundry Department resorted to go slow tactics on and from the 2nd March 1959 shortly after the implementation of the Third Engineering Tribunal award on the 28th February 1959. For such go slow tactics on the part of the workmen the Company issued a notice on the 4th March 1959 stating that the foundry might be closed and individual action against the delinquent workmen would be taken unless such tactics were stopped. On the same some date some workmen of the said department voluntarily approached the management and submitted a joint petition to the effect that the workmen in general were willing to do work but that they were being prevented from doing work by threats, intimidation and coercion by the workmen in serial numbers 15 to 17. In the said representation the workmen specifically requested that their names might not be divulged as otherwise they would be in serious troubles, so much so that even their life might be endangered. The management on receipt of the joint representation, charge-sheeted the workmen to which they replied, and after holding the departmental enquiry when they were found guilty of gross misconduct, decided to dismiss them.

Before the Tribunal, the Union examined seven of the dismissed workmen namely P.W. 1 Shri Debdas Banerjee (serial No. 4) P.W. 2 Nathu Mia (serial No. 14) P.W. 3 Shri Ramrati Naskar (serial No. 16), P.W. 4 Sk. Amajudd (serial No. 10), P.W. 5 Chitta Ranjan Das (serial No. 8). Rest of the workmen were not examined.

The Company, on the other hand, examined O.P.W. 1 Shri Saradindu Sen, the Personnel Officer, who conducted the departmental enquiry against Amajuddin and the workers in serial Nos. 12 to 14, and was present, at the departmental enquiry as against workers in serial Nos. 15 to 17 and O.P.W. 2 Shri Sudhin Mazumdar, Assistant Planning and Production Engineer of the Company, who proved some documents, which were admitted by the Union. He also gave evidence regarding the departmental proceeding carried out by the Company on the charges levelled against the several workmen.

Besides, both the Union and the Company proved some documents, which are marked exhibits in this case and to which I would refer to as and when necessary in course of my decision.

Before entering into the merits of the case, which relates to the justification or otherwise of the dismissal of 17 workmen, it is necessary, to place, some broad facts, which are to be kept in view, in connection with this dispute.

Messrs. Bengal Ingot Company is an engineering concern, employing about 350 workmen. The Secretary of the Union which was registered on the 5th February 1957, wrote to the Company on the 17th July 1957 conveying the resolution of the committee that unless the demand for increased bonus and other demands were conceded, workers would be forced to go on strike (vide Ext. A). Next, on 9th September 1957, the workers wrote to Mr. James, the Managing Director, seeking a hearing of their grievances regarding payment of bonus, etc. (Ext. B). Just after that, the workers became restless, on the question of settlement of the demand as to bonus, on the eve of Durga Puja, and the Company wrote to the Labour Commissioner on 12th September 1957 that the workers shouted slogans and surrounded the car of the Managing Director (vide Ext. C). The Managing Director of the Company issued a notice on 16th September 1957, in reply to the demands put forward by the Union, stating therein that the demands were not justified (vide Ext. O). On the same date Mr. James issued a notice that discipline had broken down in the Casting Foundry Department, where, the workers had refused the lawful and reasonable command of the Senior Officers both to commence work and to quit the premises of the Factory [vide Ext. O(1)]. According to the case of the Company, the workers in general and particularly those in the Casting Foundry Department, took such an attitude as Messrs. J Stone & Co. had suspended seven workmen. It may be noted in this connection that Messrs. J Stone & Co. happened to be the Secretary of this Company at that time and the factories of both the Companies were situated at the same premises. The workers staged a sort of partial sit-down strike from 16th September 1957 to 18th September 1957. Then on 19th September 1957, there was almost a complete strike, by cessation of work, when the workers absented themselves from duties. During the period of this strike which continued up to the end of December 1957, only a few workers numbering about 25 or 30, out of a total complement of about 350, worked. The Company recruited some casual workmen to carry on the work during the period of the strike. Ext. D series are the letters written by the Company and the Union to the Labour Commissioner on 26th December 1957 indicating the terms in which the strike came to an end. During the period of the strike as stated before, the Company made arrangement, for bringing down the workers, to the workshop and for that the Company engaged two lorries, one for bringing down the workers from the Behala site and the other for bringing down those workers from the Esplanade Site.

I now proceed to deal with the merits of the case of the dismissed workman. Amajuddin (serial No. 10) was charge sheeted on 7th November 1957, i.e., during the period of the strike, for his alleged participation in the stay-in strike, and for putting forward a threat in presence of officials that workers who would work, would meet with serious consequence (vide Ext. F). It is clear from the evidence that there was a partial stay-in strike from 16th November 1957 to 18th November 1957. From the evidence of O. P. W. 2 Sudhir Mazumder, it appears that only a few workmen in the Furnace Department were doing their work and the majority were sitting idle and that he along with Mr. James and other officers approached the workmen with a view to persuade them to work. The Company also produced a note, Ext. O(2), dated 17th October 1957, wherein it is stated that Amjuddin threatened the workers, that they should remain prepared for any consequence that might follow, if at the request of the management they resumed work and that the workmen present numbering 77, by show of hands signified their refusal to continue work. Amajuddin denied the allegation in the charge, in his reply to the same (vide Ext. G, dated 15th November 1957). The charge against him is apparently to the effect that he took a leading part in the stay-in strike, staged by the workmen. Such stay-in strike is not only illegal, but it is highly improper. P.W. 4 Amajuddin admits that he was present at the departmental proceeding and that he signed the same. Ext. T(3) is the copy of the departmental proceeding, carried on by O.P.W. 1 Shri S. Sen, an Officer of the Company on 16th April 1958. In the departmental enquiry the Company examined O.P.W. 2 Shri Sudhir Mazumder, Shri P. K. Ghose, an officer, and three workmen, viz., Sade Ali (ticket No. 81), Niranjan Adhikari (ticket No. 69) and Abdul Hossain (ticket No. 88). Full opportunities had been given to Amajuddin to cross-examine them. The evidence of Amajuddin was also recorded. I am satisfied that the enquiry was fairly and properly done. There is no basic error in the domestic enquiry as done. The findings made, as a result of the enquiry, is in no way perverse. There is no evidence to give rise to an inference as to unfair labour practice or victimisation.

Amajuddin, in his evidence, denied having been punished by the Criminal Court, on a charge of preventing the workers to resume work during the period of the strike. But Ext. T, the copy of the judgment of the Court, shows that he was convicted on such a charge under section 341, I.P.C.

In the circumstances I find no reason to interfere with the orders of dismissal passed against him by the Company.

I now proceed to take up for my consideration the case of dismissal of the workmen, namely, (1) Jhagru Das (serial No. 1), (2) Trilokinath Tewari (serial No. 2), (3) Bhagau Ahir (serial No. 3), (4) Devdas Banerjee (serial No. 4), (5) Bhagalu Chamar (serial No. 5), (6) Rambali Ahir (serial No. 6), (7) Sk. Panchu (serial No. 7), (8) Chitta Ranjan Dey (serial No. 8), (9) Bal Bahadur (serial No. 9) and (10) Chandra Bahadur (serial No. 11).

These persons were charge-sheeted on 4th December 1957 for an act of misconduct alleged to have been committed by them on 27th November 1957. The description of the charge given in Ext. H runs as follows:—

"At about 7 a.m. on 27th November 1957 while some workers were coming to work in the Company's lorry No. WBL 588, you along with some other workers were waiting on Hide Road, south of the Brace Bridge level-crossing and approximately in front of the new Metal Box Factory and Liptons. It is alleged that you along with the others attacked the lorry and caused damage to it and also threw brickbats and the workers causing injury to several workmen with a view to coerce and intimidate them to participate in the illegal strike."

Bal Bahadur (serial No. 9), Devdas Banerj (serial No. 4), Chandra Bahadur (serial No. answered in charge denying the allegation (v Ext. I series). The incident, as alleged, took p while the lorry carrying workers were pas through the road. O.P.W. 2, Sudhir Mazu stated that he saw injuries in the person of workers, when the lorry reached the fac There were admittedly two police constables lorry attacked in the way, acting as escorts. natural that nobody other than the work strike would possibly have any reason to of a lorry carrying the willing workers. So the workers, in the lorry, reported abou incident as it happened to O.P.W. Majumder, after first reporting to the polic police, after enquiry, submitted char against ten workmen [Ext. 6 and Ext. 6(appears from the same that the workmen nath (serial No. 2), Bal Bahadur (serial N Chandra Bahadur (serial No. 11) were no sheeted at all by the police. These three were not, therefore, proceeded against State in the Criminal Court. In the lo the other seven persons that is Jhagru (serial No. 1), Bhagan Ahir (serial No. Banerjee (serial No. 4), Bhagalu Chan No. 5), Rambali Ahri (serial No. 6), S (serial No. 7) and Chittaran Das (se were convicted under section 147, I.P

But, in appeal, they were all acqui (vide Ext. 2, the copy of the judgment). dently, merely because of the fact that the workmen charged under section 147, I.P.C., were acquitted by the Criminal Court, it cannot be s that they could not be found guilty of the so ence as amounting to misconduct in a departmental managerial inquiry provided it be s that the employer proceeded bona fide and e was no basic error or perversity in the find and that the entire course of the proceedi had been carried on, with due regards to p neiples of natural justice.

In the departmental enquiry car on by the management, all these ten perso s well as Amajuddin and two other work were proceeded against. The enquiry w ted to 25th February 1958 and carried on se dates up to 12th March 1958. Ext. U is the out the departmental proceedings done by S.P. K. Ghosh, together with the findings made thereon on 10th April 1958. Naturally, the management had no prima facie evidence as to the identity of these workmen individually in the commission of the offence, except from the statement of the workmen, who were in the lorry at the time of incident. In the departmental enquiry, the management examined some of such workmen, namely, Paresh, Prolahad, Bharat, Bhuddeswar, Birkishore, Joykrishna, Sambhu, Ramen Sadhu, Phani. Amongst them Phani was the driver of the said lorry. In the criminal case, as well, all the abovenamed nine workmen, save and except Joy Krishan had been examined on the side of the prosecution. It appears that Ramen, Sambhu, Paresh and nine others filed a petition to the Manager, J. Stone & Co. Ltd. on 27th November 1957, i.e., on the date of the incident, narrating the occurrence as it happened (vide Ext. 7). It is significant to note that in that petition, it was clearly mentioned that the signatories could identify, amongst the wrongdoers, Jhagru, Rambal, Amazuddin, Deonandan, Bhaglu, Chittaranjan Das, Devdas Banerjee, Jagardhan Gowala and Bhagnu Ahir. The names of Trilokinath, Sk. Panchu, Bal Bahadur, Chandra Bahadur were not mentioned in the first report made by the eye-witnesses. Besides in Ext. 7, it is clearly stated that the rest of the people, who were numbering about fifty heads could not be recognised. It is however to be noted that Sk. Panchu was one of the charge-sheeted person who was proceeded against in the criminal court. In the circumstances of the case, I am inclined to give much importance to the statement in Ext. 7, and the charge-sheet, submitted by the police, when the occurrence took place, when as the lorry was moving at some speed and the workmen, Trilokinath, Bal Bahadur and Chandra Bahadur, were not included in the documents referred to above. There could not arise any basis for charge-sheeting these persons. So even though some witnesses disclosed the names of those three workmen in the departmental proceedings, the value of their evidence, is so worthless that no impartial body of persons sitting in the domestic enquiry, should possibly fix up the guilt of these persons on their evidence. The findings as to the guilt of these persons is thus held to be perverse and this Tribunal, acting as a supervisory authority cannot refrain from intertering with the decision of the management, however, much I give latitude to the procedure adopted in a domestic enquiry. The dismissal of Trilokinath, Bal Bahadur and Chandra Bahadur is thus found to be unjustified. It is urged by Shri Pathak, appearing on behalf of the workmen, that out of the nine workmen who deposed, at the domestic enquiry, Paresh, Birkishore, Sambhu, Bharat, joined the concern after the strike and that their evidence, is unworthy of reliance, inasmuch as, they could have no occasion to know the permanent workmen, already on strike. About Prallhad it is stated that he could not recognise any of the workers, as stated by him in the Criminal Court (vide Ext. 5, deposition of Prohlad). I do not thing that there is any cogent reason to hold that just because of these facts, their statements in the domestic enquiry must be disbelived. In fact, the evidentiary value of the statements in a domestic enquiry must be considered independently and all that the Tribunal should do, is to examine, if the principles of natural justice had been observed and the managemnt proceeded bona fide and the finding of guilt of the workmen for misconduct, is a sible view, which a fairminded person would e, no matter whether another person, upon lysis of the evidence, would come to a different ision. Besides, it has got to be noted, that the rkmen Jhagru, Bhagan Ahir, Bhagalu Chamar, mbali Ahir, Sk. Panchu, all of whom were en full opportunities for defence and cross-mination of the witnesses who deposed against m, did not come forward to challenge the lings at the domestic enquiry. The name of agru Ruhidas was mentioned by Birkishore, Joy shore, Ramen, Sambhu, Bharat and Phani, and ongst them all except Bharat were produced for ss-examination by Jhagru. Paresh, Budheswar, mbhu, Birkishore and Pralhad mentioned about complicity of Bhagan Ahir. At least three rkmen, that is Paresh, Sambhu and Pralhad cifically mentioned that they saw Bhagalu amar and Phani, Joy Kishore, Ramen ntioned the name of Rambali. Sk. Panchu was ntioned as involved in the incident by Sambhu, ani, Joy Kishore. The orders of dismissal as ainst them thus stand.

Now Chittaranjan Das stated before me that he as sick from 26th September 1957 to 26th Octo-er 1957 and that he submitted an application by st on 28th October 1957. Ext. 1(a) is the said tter and Ext. 1 is the receipt as to certificate of sting. Apparently this letter was posted, the y following the occurrence on 27th October 1957. cannot therefore place any importance upon this ter, Ext. 1. In the domestic enquiry Paresh id Ramen mentioned his name in the examination chief. But Ramen was not produced at the me of cross-examination and so his evidence comes useless. It however appears that Bir-shore, Sambhu and Phani were produced for oss-examination by Chittaranjan, even though ey did not mention his name in the examination chief. This shows that the management did t proceed fairly and bona fide as against Chitta-njan. I therefore hold that the dismissal of hittaranjan Das was unjustified.

About Debdas Banerjee, it appears that Bir-shore and Phani mentioned his name. Debdas ated that he was the Assistant Secretary of the nion and that the company out of vindictiveness ose to dismiss him, after holding the depart-ental enquiry on a charge which he denied. dmittedly he signed the enquiry proceedings. Both e witnesses as stated above were cross-examined y Debdas. It appears that this workman had a ear record of service. But at the same time I am tisfied that a reasonable person, is justified in ming to the conclusion from the evidence that he mitted the offence. I thus refuse to interfere h the decision of the management.

now take up for consideration the case of nsundar Sasmal (serial No. 12), Gopal Prosad rhansi (serial No. 13) and Nathuni Mia (serial . 14). They were charged for assaulting a ry driver, Haripada Sarkar, on 12th December 1957 at 7-15 p.m. Ext. J is the charge-sheet. The charge runs as follows:

"It is alleged that on 12th December, 1957 at about 7-15 p.m. while Haripada Sarkar, Driver of the Company's lorry, was going home on his bicycle you along with some other men were waiting for him at the corner of Hide Road and Jain Kunja near the Stewarts and Lloyds Factory. It is further alleged that you along with the other attacked him and assaulted him with lathis and other dangerous implements causing serious injuries to his head, chest, arms and legs. You have forcibly taken away his bicycle. It is also alleged that you after assaulting Haripada Sarkar put him down and also kicked him on his chest with your boots."

The departmental enquiry was started on 8th April 1958 by Shri P. K. Ghose, who examined Haripada and Shri Majumder (O.P.W. 2) on that date. It was resumed after adjournment on 27th May 1958 when Nathuni Mia and three other work-men, who were also charge-sheeted, were examined. Now, while admitting that he had been severely beaten, Haripada stated on 8th April 1958 that he could not identify the assailants. But on 21st July 1958, he wrote to the Company that he did not mention the names out of fear (vide Ext. X marked for identification). The enquiry was there-fore so to say resumed afresh on 1st August 1958. Now in the letter, Ext. X marked for identi-fication, Haripada mentioned the name of Nathuni Mia and Gopal Prasad and three others. He did not mention the name of Shyamsundar. So obviously there is no basis to show prima facie the complicity of Shyamsundar. As regards the other two workmen I find from the enquiry proceedings, Ext. C, that Nathuni availed of the opportunity to cross-examine Haripada and Gopal Prosad did not turn up at the enquiry to cross-examine him.

In the circumstances, I find that there is no reason to interfere with the decision of the manage-ment so far as Nathuni Mia and Gopal Prosad are concerned.

I now consider the case of Abdul Quadir, Ram-ratan Nash and Ram Lakshman. It is stated in the charge-sheet, Ext. L series, dated 10th March 1959, that they were inciting other workmen in the Casting Foundry Department to adopt "go-slow" tactics, and threatened them that otherwise serious consequences would be followed. The Company issued a notice on 4th March 1959 stating therein that some workmen had adopted "go-slow" policy and that they would be compelled to close-down the factory. O.P.W. 2, Shri S. Majumder, stated that he received the letter, Ext. V, which bears the thumb impression of four persons. He can-not however say who wrote the contents of the letter. The enquiry was done by Mr. R. B. Bam-bridge, the Manager, on 18th March 1959. Ext. U(2) is a copy of the enquiry proceedings. The specific charge against these workmen is that on the 4th and 5th March they incited the workers to go slow. But the complaint to that effect was made on the 4th March and it is absurd to suggest that any offence was done on the 5th March. The charge to that effect is different. Besides at the enquiry proceedings none of the persons who made the complaint was examined. Naturally, the accused persons could have no opportunity to cross-examine them. Even assuming that the persons who made the complaint could not be examined as they were afraid of the same, there is no reason why they could not come to depose before me. There was no evidence either at the enquiry proceedings, or is there any such before me, from which any inference as to the guilt of the persons for the alleged offence can be drawn. I therefore hold that the dismissal of these persons was not justified.

In the result, I find that the workmen, Trilokinath Tewari Chittaranjan Das, Bal Bahadur, Abdul Chandra Bahadur, Samsundar Sasmul, Abdul Quadir, Ram Ratan Naskar, Ram Lakshman, should be reinstated in service, on their presenting themselves for duty within a month from the publication of this award. They should be paid one-third of the total wages for the entire period, commencing from the date of their dismissal up to the publication of the award. The intervening period should be deemed as leave without pay so that the continuity in service may be maintained.

This is my award.

But actually the workmen of the Company belonged to two Unions, viz., (1) Kedar Rubber Manufacturers Workers' Union, and (2) Kedar Rubber Mazdoor Union. So, on 9th May 1960 my predecessor-in-office with the consent of the first Union and the Company, summoned the other Union under section 18(3)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The second Union also appeared and filed a written statement on 29th July 1960. Thereafter several adjournments were taken by the parties for effecting a compromise, but none were effected till 27th February 1961. So, the case was actually taken up for hearing by me on 10th March 1961 and heard partly. At that stage, a fresh talk of compromise was started by the parties, and on both parties' prayers several adjournments were granted for the purpose. At last on 9th June 1961 both parties filed a joint petition of compromise settling their dispute amicably. I have perused the compromise petition, and I think, the terms are fair, reasonable and lawful and should be given effect to. the compromise petition is recorded. An award is made in terms of the compromise. The petition of compromise will form a part of the award, and is marked as Annexure A to the award. Issues, if any, not covered by the terms of compromise shall be deemed to have been waived or not pressed by the parties.

This is my award.

BILL

to amend the Calcutta University Act, 1951.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Calcutta University Act, 1951 for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; West Ben. Act XVIII of 1951.

It is hereby enacted in the Twelfth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta University (Second Amendment) Act, 1961.

Amendment of section 44 of West Ben. Act XVIII of 1951.

2. Section 44 of the Calcutta University Act, 1951 shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section and after that sub-section as so renumbered, the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

(Clause 3.)

Chancellor is satisfied that such election is vitiated by fraud or corrupt practices, the Chancellor may make an order annulling, for reasons to be recorded, the proceedings in respect of such election or any part thereof and directing that a fresh election be held in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the Statutes made thereunder from such stage as may be specified in such order and such order of the Chancellor shall be final.".

3. (1) The Calcutta University (Amendment) Ordinance, 1961 is hereby repealed. West Ben. Ord. V of 1961.

(2) Anything done or any action taken under the Calcutta University Act, 1951 as amended by the said Ordinance shall be deemed to have been validly done or taken under that Act as amended by this Act as if this Act had commenced on the 22nd day of May, 1961. West Ben. Act XVIII of 1951.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 44 of the Calcutta University Act, 1951 empowers the Chancellor to decide disputes regarding elections to the various authorities and bodies of the University. There is, however, no provision in the Calcutta University Act, 1951, as it stands at present, to quash or cancel any election proceedings, or any part thereof, when serious irregularities come to light. It is, therefore, necessary to make a suitable provision in the Calcutta University Act, 1951 enabling the Chancellor to declare an election or part of an election to be void on ground of fraud or corrupt practices. An Ordinance (West Bengal Ordinance V of 1961) to this effect was promulgated by the Governor. It is now proposed to make an amending legislation to replace the provisions of this Ordinance (West Bengal Ordinance V of 1961).

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Titaghur Jute Factory No. 1, Titaghur, 24-Parganas and their workmen represented by Thos Duff Group Mills Clerks Association, 17 Ferry Ghat Street, Telinipara, district Hooghly. (Case No. VIII-466/60.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co.

For the Union: Shri Phani Ghosh.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 4137-I.R./IR/7L-34/60, dated 4th August 1960, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Titaghur Jute Factory No. 1, Titaghur, 24-Parganas (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Thos Duff Group Mills Clerks Association, 17 Ferry Ghat Street, Telinipara, district Hooghly (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

In this case, the following issues have been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication:—

(1) Whether the action of the Management in stopping annual increments of Shri Buddhadeb Dey from 1952 is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

(2) Whether the dismissal of Shri Durga Pada Das is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

(3) Whether the dismissal of Shri Kanailal Ganguly is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

Issue No. 1: The contention of Shri Buddhadeb Dey is that he is entitled to time-scale annual increment of Rs. 5 at least, and this has been unjustly stopped from 1952. The case of the Company, on the other hand, is that Shri Dey has already reached the maximum of his scale, and as such he is not entitled to any further annual increment as prayed for. The Company also contends that the question of granting him further increment, if any, lies entirely with the discretion of the Management.

Shri Buddhadeb Dey is admittedly a compounder, rather the only compounder attached to Titaghur Jute Factory No. 1 and he has been serving the Company for long. There is no denying the fact that he was originally appointed with an initial basic pay of Rs. 44, per mensem and since then at different times, but not necessarily annually, he got increments at different rates. His present basic pay is admittedly Rs. 108. It is also a fact that from 1946 till 1951 he used to get annual increment of Rs. 5 only. Of course, he got no such increment in 1949. In 1955 he got an ad hoc increment of Rs. 8 presumably in consonance with the Third Jute Textile Tribunal Award. Hence, it is urged on behalf of Shri Dey that formerly he used to get an increment of Rs. 5 every year, but the Company discontinued that system of granting increment all on a sudden in 1952. Shri Dey submitted a representation in this connection, and conciliation was started in this respect in 1958. The Company's standpoint taken in this connection is that Shri Dey is not entitled to the scale meant for the clerical staff, as he is governed by the service conditions of the Health and Welfare Staff.

From the nature of reference made to this Tribunal, it will be clear that this Tribunal is not intended to fix any scale for Shri Dey or anybody of his status. Shri Dey's primary contention is that his increment being due according to contract —express or implied—the Company had no right to stop it unjustly in 1952. I may mention that it is not at all a dispute that none of the Jute Textile Tribunal attempted to fix any scale for any member of the Health and Welfare Staff, and the said Tribunals at best fixed scales for different grades of the clerical staff. It is not the case of Shri Dey before this Tribunal that his pay and service conditions must be same as those of the clerical staff. In his cross-examination also, Shri Dey unequivocally admits that he is a member of the Health and Welfare Staff of Titagarh Jute Mill No. 1. Nothing has been shown to me why Shri Dey as a compounder shall get the benefit of the scales fixed for the clerical staff by the different Tribunals. Grade I of the clerical staff according to the Jute Tribunal Award is Rs. 78-5-143 EB-6-185. Shri Dey presumably thinks that by virtue of the present pay he is drawing, he can be best fitted in this scale of the clerical staff. But he has no reason or evidence to show why he should arbitrarily be fitted in the scale of the clerical staff. This being the position, I at once find that Shri Dey cannot claim the scale of the clerical staff for any reason whatsoever. So, the question arises what is actually the scale, if any, for the compounders who really belong to the Health and Welfare Staff of the Company. Shri Dey entered the service of the Company in January, 1943. Initially he used to get basic pay of Rs. 44, dearness allowance of Rs. 5 and A.R.P. allowance Rs. 15. Now he is getting Rs. 108 as basic pay and Rs. 32-8 as dearness allowance and Rs. 3,42 as interim benefit in accordance with the decision of the Jute Wage Board. Shri Dey never knew or never tried to know what was the maximum or minimum of the scale to which he was fitted or in which he was appointed. His case is that he tried to ascertain the maximum of his scale for the first time in 1951, and that he was not told of any scale at the time of his appointment. Lately, he was informed that the scale to which he belonged was Rs. 56—96 with an annual increment of Rs. 5 only. The Company has produced an official record to show its scheme of flat rates with increments for Health and Welfare Staff (Ext. B), which became effective from 1st June 1944. Thus from this scheme of the Company, it appears that the compounders belong to Grade III of the wage structure meant for the Health and Welfare Staff. Whether this scheme or wage structure for the Health and Welfare Staff is fair or not, is not a question to be enquired into by this Tribunal. The fact is that this is the scale meant for such compounders, and so there is no escape from the conclusion that Shri Dey had reached the maximum of his scale in 1952. The Company's contention is that increment which was being allowed to Shri Dey formerly was stopped in 1952, because he had already reached the maximum. But one cannot forget that in fact the last increment which was allowed to Shri Dey before the Third Jute Textile Tribunal Award became effective brought his pay to Rs. 100. Hence, it is argued on behalf of Shri Dey that the Company has exceeded the maximum limit of Rs. 96 of his scale without any prayer from his side, and this shows that the Company never intended to keep the maximum of his scale confined to Rs. 96. So, it is urged on behalf of the Union that Shri Dey is entitled to get time-scale annual increment of Rs. 5 like members of the clerical staff, and the stoppage of his increment after 1952 is really a malafide conduct on the part of the Management. Shri Dey further points out in his deposition that the basic pay of the compounder attached to Titaghur Jute Mill No. 2 is Rs. 138. Similarly two compounders of Shyamnagore Jute Mill are now getting Rs. 142 and Rs. 123 as their basic pay. From this also it is sought to be argued that the maximum of the scale of a compounder was never intended to be 96 as now alleged by the Management. So, this is a question which requires a close scrutiny. For ascertaining what scale or increment, if any, is really due to Shri Dey, I have already mentioned that Shri Dey did not know what was intended to be the maximum of his scale. In this connection, I may refer to the deposition of O.P.W. 1 - Dr. N. Chakrabarty, Chief Medical Officer of Messrs. Duff & Co. of India (P) Ltd. It is not in dispute that the Health and Welfa

Organisation of several Jute Mills of this locality is looked after by the said Chief Medical Officer. Each of the several Jute Mills has, of course, its own Health and Welfare Staff, but the overall control of all these units is with the said Chief Medical Officer whose headquarters is at Angus Jute Mill. Dr. Chakrabarty also swears that the compounders basically belong to Grade III of Health and Welfare Staff and their pay scale is Rs. 56—96 with an annual increment of Rs. 5. His explanation is that after Shri Dey had reached Rs. 95 he was allowed an increment of Rs. 5, though the maximum of his scale was Rs. 96, and his was done simply because it did not look well to allow him an increment of Re. 1 only at that final stage. As to the next increment of Rs. 8, it is conceded by both sides that this ad hoc increment was allowed to all officers in consonance with the spirit of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal Award, which was meant for the clerical staff alone. This ad hoc increment was allowed to all simply to avoid disparity and maintain amity amongst different categories of employees of the Company. Dr. Chakrabarty's explanation is quite reasonable. As to higher wages enjoyed by other senior compounders of other local mills, Dr. Chakrabarty categorically asserts that the Company reserves to itself its right to grant any further increment in its discretion to any compounder after he had reached the maximum of his scale. In other words, the contention of the Management is that the question of granting any further increment to an employee after he had reached the maximum of his scale lies absolutely at the discretion of the Management, and this may be allowed in consideration of his exceptional merit and efficiency. Shri Dey also admits in his deposition that increments of compounders are recommended by the Chief Medical Officer. He further admits that there are certain compounders who are getting lower pay than him. From this, it appears that there is no hard and fast rule that everybody will be allowed to cross the maximum of his scale-pay. Dr. Chakrabarty says that there is no up-graded scale for allowing further increment to an employee who had already reached the maximum stage of his scale of pay. He, of course, admits that he has discretion to allow further increment to an employee who has reached the maximum stage of his scale, if that employee be found to be a worker of exceptional merit and efficiency. To this, he adds that considering the merit of Shri Dey he did not think it fit to grant him further increment after he had reached the maximum of his scale. In the last portion of his deposition he volunteers to say that Shri Dey is a compounder of ordinary merit. Thus from what I have discussed above, it would be clear that normally the scale of pay of a compounder is Rs. 56—5—96 only. It is also clear that the compounder may be allowed further increment only at the discretion of the Management in consideration of his merit and efficiency. This being the state of affairs and there being no Tribunal Award entitling Shri Dey to any higher scale of pay, it cannot be held that Shri Dey was entitled to the time-scale annual increment of Rs. 5 even after his basic pay was raised to Rs. 108 or so. In this view of the matter, I finally decide that the action of the Management in stopping annual increment to Shri Dey in 1952 cannot be held to be without justification, and this Tribunal cannot interfere with it. Issue No. 1 is decided accordingly.

Issue No. 2: The question is whether the dismissal of Shri Durgapada Das by the Management can be supported. Shri Das served this Company for about 9½ years as a member of the clerical staff, and he last served the Company as a clerk in the Provident Fund Section. On 19th June 1958 a charge-sheet was issued against Shri Das in the following form:—

> "Yesterday morning at approximately 7-30 a.m. you were ordered to assume duties on temporary transfer from the Provident Fund Office to the General Office. You categorically refused to obey this reasonable order of the Management and behaved insolently displaying gross insubordination.
> You are charged with the above offence which is to be treated as misconduct under rule 14(e)(i) of the standing orders. You are hereby required to explain in writing the said circumstances alleged against you within 24 hours of the receipt of this charge-sheet. Pending further enquiry you are suspended forthwith."

The Company's case is that on 18th June 1958 at about 7-30 a.m. O.P.W. 3 Mr. Mclaren sent for Shri Das from his section through the section-in-charge Shri Harendra Nath Chatterjee. It is alleged that Mr. Mclaren directed Shri Das to work in the General Office for that day only, but Shri Das refused to carry out this order and behaved insolently betraying gross insubordination. It is further alleged that Shri Das created a row which compelled Mr. Mclaren to send for a durwan for ousting Shri Das, and Shri Das, however, withdrew himself on the appearance of the durwan without requiring any application of force on him. The Company's case is that it tried its best to serve the charge-sheet on Shri Das and inform him of the date of enquiry, but these could not be served as Shri Das purposely avoided the service of them. Accordingly, an enquiry was held in his absence, and the charge against him was found established by the Enquiring Officer. The Management accepted the finding of the Enquiring Officer, and finally dismissed Shri Das with effect from 19th June 1958. Shri Das's contention as disclosed in his written statement is that the charge-sheet was received by him on 10th July 1958. His case is that on 18th June 1958 at about 7-15 a.m. Incharge Babu of the Provident Fund Section took him to the Office Master Mr. Mclaren, when the latter asked him if he was prepared to work in the General Office. Shri Das was once transferred to the Labour Office and he readily accepted this transfer, and this time also he accepted the transfer but simply informed the Office Master that he was under the treatment of a doctor. His further case is that he was thinking of asking for leave to go for a change, and wanted the proposed transfer to be effective on his return from leave. At this, it is alleged, the Office Master got furious and asked a durwan to remove him (Shri Das) physically from the Mill premises. It is also contended by Shri Das that as the enquiry, if any, was held on the very day on which the notice of enquiry reached him, he could not submit any explanation or take part in the enquiry proceedings. Hence, it is urged on behalf of the Union that Shri Das was not given a timely notice of the charges brought against him nor he was given sufficient opportunity to defend himself. Of course, it is superfluous to add that according to Shri Das the charge itself against him was baseless. The version of the Management is that though no notice could be formally served on Shri Das, he actually got the notice of the charge as also the notice of enquiry long before the date of enquiry, and so his contention on this score cannot be accepted. It is an accepted principle of law by now that disciplinary action against an employee is really a Management function, and a Tribunal is not intended to interfere with the action of the Management on this and that ground. If any such order of dismissal is challenged by an employee, the Tribunal's duty is to see if there was any want of good faith, victimisation, unfair labour practice or violation of natural justice by the Management in this connection. The Tribunal should also see if the finding as to misconduct is completely baseless or perverse. If any one of these questions is answered in the affirmative, the Tribunal will have every right to set aside the order of the Management. While enquiring into this aspect of the matter, the Tribunal is not supposed to sit on appeal over the decision of the Management as an Appellate Court does over that of a Lower Court. It is also accepted on all hands that the standard of proof in a domestic enquiry need not be that of a Criminal Court in respect of a criminal charge. If the charge is substantially established, the charge may be said to have been established for the purpose of the domestic enquiry. This being the set of law on the point, my first duty in this case will be to see whether any principle of natural justice has been actually violated by the Management in connection with the enquiry held by them against Shri Das. It is also an accepted principle of law that nobody can be punished without giving him an opportunity to defend himself. In this case, the enquiry was held on 10th July 1958, and there is no documentary evidence to show that Shri Das got the charge-sheet before that date. If Shri Das really came to know of the charge for the first time on 10th July 1958 and the enquiry was held on that very date, it will be difficult for anybody to hold that he was given sufficient time and opportunity to defend himself. The Company's case no doubt is that it made repeated attempts in various ways and on different dates to serve a copy of the charge-sheet on Shri Das, but he purposely avoided the service of the same with an ulterior motive. The Company, of course, has produced ample proof to show that the charge-sheet was sent to Shri Das on 19th July 1958 by Registered Post, and a copy thereof also was sent to him through a peon at his residential address. But the fact is that neither of these two notices could actually be delivered to Shri Das personally. On 4th July 1958 the Company sent a letter along with a duplicate copy of the charge-sheet by Registered Post and also a copy thereof to his residential address through a peon, but this time also the Company's attempt failed. On 7th July 1958 the Company sent another registered letter with a copy of the charge-sheet asking Shri Das to attend the enquiry to be held on 10th July 1958 at 3 p.m., and on that very date the Company sent to him another letter with similar materials under Certificate of Posting. Over and above this, the Company sent a peon with copies thereof to his residential address, bu with the same result. Thus it will be clear tha the Management left no stone unturned to get th charge-sheet as well as the notice of enquiry served on Shri Das by Registered Post and otherwise, and still the fact remains that none of these letters could be personally delivered to Shri Das. It is nobody's case that all these letters were incorrectly addressed. The residential address of Shri Das was fully known to the Management. It is also admitted by Shri Das that the Company's peon had been to his residence on more than one occasions. Shri Das's only contention is that he failed to get these letters, because at all material times he was actually living away from his home address. His contention is that from 19th June 1958 till three months thereafter he actually stayed with his sister at Behala, and hence he could not receive any one of those letters. According to him, the charge-sheet, he got lately, was actually left by the Postman at his Titaghur address in his absence, and this was handed over to him by his brother at Behala on the following day. But this version of Shri Das is not really in consonance with his story as mentioned in his written statement. His simple contention in the written statement was that though he received the charge-sheet on 10th July 1958, he could not reply thereto as he was sick. Be that as it may, the evidence adduced the side of the Company is entirely different. Fr the statement of the Durwan Shri Ramna Tewari as made before the Enquiring Officer the domestic enquiry as well as the statements Shri Dinanath Singh made before the Enquirir Officer at the domestic enquiry and the prese Tribunal, it will appear that Shri Das was actual seen at his house while the two durwans had bee to his place of residence at Titaghur with the so letters. Their version is that Shri Das prompt concealed himself in the inner premises of h residence as soon as he saw them, and the oth inmates of his house pretended to say that he w not at home at the relevant time. So, it is to b decided which version is true. I have ver carefully considered this aspect of the matter, an to me it appears that the story of Shri Das' alleged absence from his own residenc continuously for three months immediately afte the date of his incident is a myth invented for th purpose of the present case. It is admitted on all hands that Shri Das was working as usual in his office till 18th June 1958 and the incident took place in the forenoon of that date. No application for leave on the ground of his alleged illness was filed before this date or before the incident. Fro the evidence on record, it does not appear that h was suffering from any serious ailment. His ca is that he was suffering from chronic dyspepsi Shri Das does not explain sufficient circumstanc for leaving his home for such a long period an staying at Behala all the time with his sister He knew it fully well that an unhappy inciden occurred on 18th June 1958, and yet he did no try to join his duties on the following day or any day thereafter within one or two months. He simply sent a letter to the Management on 19th June 1958 asking for one month's leave, but he did not care to intimate to the Management that change of his address. No such change of addre was intimated to his local Post Office also. S it is difficult for me to believe if a service-holde can peacefully live away from his home for such long period keeping no information about the office matters under such circumstances. In his deposition, Shri Das says that he learnt from his brother that durwan after durwan came to his residential address on different dates with different letters from the Company. The fact appears to be that all along Shri Das was staying at his home address at Titaghur, though he was trying to avoid the service of the Company's letters. He also knew it fully well that a most uphappy incident took place in the forenoon on 18th June 1958 and so he could well imagine the repurcussion of it in advance. Thus after carefully considering the statements of different witnesses and the circumstantial evidence on record, I have no hesitation in finding that Shri Das purposely avoided the receipt of the Company's letters all through. In this connection, I may also refer to the Peon Book (Ext. X). This Exhibit will show that the peon Shri Dinanath Singh last had been to Shri Das's house on 7th July 1958. Even though the peon could not deliver the letter to Shri Das, the fact of such letter was fully known to the inmates of Shri Das's house, and even according to Shri Das, this information was carried to him by his own brother at Behala. Assuming that Shri Das was staying with his sister at Behala after the said unhappy incident on 18th June 1958, Shri Das had sufficient time to approach the Management, if he had any intention to know anything about the contents of those letters. It is also admitted that one such letter was left at the house of Shri Das by the Postman, but the fact remains that no such letter was issued by the Company after 7th July 1958. Normally, a letter issued on 7th July 1958 from Titaghur Post Office is expected to reach an addressee living within the jurisdiction of the same Post Office on the following day. It is also not in dispute that Shri Das's residence is not very far off either from the Post Office or from his employers' office. In this view of the matter, I may observe with confidence that it is not a case of non-service of the charge-sheet or the notice of enquiry in violation of any principle of natural justice. Shri Das could well anticipate everything in advance including the impending charge-sheet, and hence he purposely avoided the service of those letters. Under the circumstances, if he failed to attend the enquiry held by the Management, he did it absolutely at his own risk. So, he cannot be allowed to challenge the propriety of the enquiry, simple on the ground that he was not given sufficient opportunity to defend himself. The enquiry was no doubt held in his absence, and I have gone through the recorded proceedings of the enquiry. I may at once observe that if the evidences recorded at the domestic enquiry be believed, there are sufficient materials to establish that Shri Das refused to carry out the lawful order of a superior officer. It was also established at the domestic enquiry that Shri Das behaved insolently with his superior and created a row also. Thus in the domestic enquiry as it is, the charge levelled against Shri Das was clearly established. In the circumstances, I cannot interfere in the matter, unless there are materials to show want of good faith or victimisation. There is not an iota of evidence that anybody of the Management had any previous grudge against Shri Das. There is also no evidence to show that the Management sought to victimise him for his Union activities. In fact, there is nothing to show that Shri Das was ever an active member of any Union. The evidences as recorded by the Enquiring Officer at the domestic enquiry will show that the conclusion drawn by him cannot be called perverse or baseless. So, following the principles laid down by their lordships of the Supreme Court, I may at once find that there is no sufficient reason for my interference with the decision of the Management.

I have already mentioned that the main contention of Shri Das was non-service of the notice of enquiry or non-receipt of the charge-sheet. His argument in this connection is that this alleged non-service rendered the whole enquiry invalid and that the finding of the Enquiring Officer should not be accepted. I have shown above that this contention of Shri Das is not acceptable in the face of the peculiar circumstances discussed above. Even assuming for argument's sake that there was no valid enquiry into the charges levelled against Shri Das, it may be argued that the issue about the merit of the impugned order of dismissal is at large before the Tribunal. In that case, the Tribunal is to decide for itself whether the misconduct alleged by the Management is proved by evidences adduced before the Tribunal. If in consideration of the evidences adduced before the Tribunal the question be answered in the affirmative, the Tribunal has to consider what should be the proper order to make under the circumstances. In this view of the matter, I cannot but examine the charge against Shri Das in the light of the evidences adduced before me. Mr. Mclaren, who was the Office Master of Titaghur Jute Mill No. 1, at the relevant time has been examined before this Tribunal. His clear evidence is that on 18th June 1958 he attempted to transfer Shri Das from the Provident Fund Section to the Main Office for only one day, but he failed to do it in spite of his best attempt. His categorical statement is that Shri Das refused to comply with his order without any reason whatsoever. Shri Das entered into his chamber along with his Section-in-charge, Shri Harendra Nath Chatterjee. Mr. Adamson, the successor designate of Mr. Mclaren, was also present at the time in the chamber of Mr. Mclaren. Mr. Mclaren's statement is that Shri Das not only refused to carry out the order, but insisted also on having a written order of transfer, though the usual office practice was that such temporary transfers were not made in writing. Shri Das refused to vacate the chamber even though requested. He was very much emotionally up-set and asked Mr. Mclaren to do anything he liked. Shri Das did not make any mention of his illness at the time, nor did he express any intention to take leave. This version of Mr. Mclaren (O.P.W.) is corroborated by Mr. J. G. L. Adamson (O.P.W. 4). Mr. Adamson also swears that Mr. Mclaren asked Mr. Das to work in the Main Office for one day only due to pressure of work, but he refused to carry out the order. At this, Mr. Adamson says, Mr. Mclaren requested Shri Das to go out, but Shri Das refused to go out and became aggressive in his attitude. Mr. Adamson also says that Shri Das did not make any mention of his sickness at the time. Both Mr. Mclaren and Mr. Adamson depose in one voice that though the durwan was sent for, nobody was required to put his hand on the person of Shri Das, because Shri Das withdrew himself after the arrival of the durwan. Shri Das, of course, in his evidence before this Tribunal says that he actually agreed to work in the General Office from that very date. He simply adds that he told Mr. Mclaren that he would apply for one month's leave on account of his illness, and expressed his willingness to work in the General Office on his return from leave According to Shri Das, Mr. Mclaren got flared up on these words alone, and asked two durwans to oust him physically from the office. In this connection, I may refer to Shri Das's own petition filed before the Manager on 19th June 1958. In that petition Shri Das writes that Mr. Mclaren called him at his office at about 7-45 a.m. on 18th June 1958 and asked him to work in the Main Office But due to his ill health he begged excuse of him. It is further added that in return Mr. Mclaren very rudely told him "you just get out of the mill," and instantly a Jamadar and a Durwan were called in to drive me out. Thus it will be clear from this latter (Ext. A) that Shri Das really pleaded his inability to work in the Main Office But he now says in his deposition before the Tribunal that he expressed his readiness to work in the Main Office. This discrepant version of Shri Das rather adds to the strength of the statements made by Mr. Mclaren and Mr. Adamson. From these circumstances, I have reasons to believe that for reasons best known to Shri Das, he refused to carry out the order of Mr. Mclaren, and presumably behaved insolently also at the relevant time. In the face of this evidence, I cannot but hold that the charge levelled against Shri Das has been substantially established by the evidences adduced before this Tribunal also. So, in any view of the matter, Shri Das has not made out a case for my interference in the matter. Hence, my finding is that the dismissal of Shri Durgapada Das is not without justification, and as such he is not entitled to any relief. Issue No. 2 is decided accordingly.

Issue No. 3: The question is whether the dismissal of Shri Kanailal Ganguli is justified. This issue has not been pressed before me, because the parties have come to a settlement on the point. On 9th January 1961 Shri Kanailal Ganguli and the Management filed a joint petition before this Tribunal stating that they had no dispute between them any longer. The Company has actually paid a big sum to Shri Ganguli in full and final settlement of all his dues and claims against the Company. The petition is marked as Annexure A to this award. Accordingly, I find that there is no dispute any longer between Shri Kanailal Ganguli and the Company. Issue No. 3 is decided accordingly.

This is my award.

(b) commencing on the 31st day of December, 1954, and ending with the date of the commencement of the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957; or 30 of 1957

(c) commencing on the 31st day of December, 1959, and ending with the date of the commencement of the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1961, minimum rates of wages have been fixed by an appropriate Government as being payable to employees employed in any employment specified in the Schedule in the belief or purported belief that such rates were being fixed under clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 3, as in force immediately before the commencement of the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1954, or 26 of 1954. the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957, or 30 of 1957. the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1961, as the case may be, such rates shall be deemed to have been fixed in accordance with law and shall not be called in question in any court on the ground merely that the relevant date specified for the purpose in that clause had expired at the time the rates were fixed:

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall extend or be construed to extend, to affect any person with any punishment or penalty whatsoever by reason of the payment by him by way of wages to any of his employees during any period specified in this section an amount which is less than the minimum rates of wages referred to in this section or by reason of non-compliance during the period aforesaid with any order or rule issued under section 13.".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Section 3(1)(a) of the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, provides that initial fixation of minimum rates of wages for the employments included in Parts I and II of the Schedule at the commencement of the Act shall be completed by a specified date (which has been extended from time to time, the last extended date being 31st December, 1959) and also that, in the case of employments added to the Schedule by notification issued under section 27, the minimum rates of wages shall be fixed before the expiry of one year from the date of the final notification under that section. The urgency originally felt for completing the initial wage-fixation within a specified date no longer exists as the bulk of wage-fixation work has already been completed and the question now is one of extending the coverage of the Act to more and more employments in both the Central and State spheres. The Minimum Wages (Central) Advisory Board at its meeting held on the 4th August, 1960, recommended that the time-limit for initial wage-fixation should be done away with altogether. It is, therefore, proposed to amend clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 3 and sub-section (1A) of that section for this purpose. Consequently the existing section 31 of the Act has been recast.

2. The other amendment proposed is that no minimum rates of wages shall be fixed or revised in respect of employees employed in a scheduled employment during the pendency of any dispute before a Tribunal over the rates of wages payable to such employees or during the period the award made by such Tribunal is in operation.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Under the existing provisions of the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, initial fixation of minimum rates of wages for the employees in any scheduled employment, whether included in the Schedule to the Act at the commencement of the Act or added thereto by a notification under section 27, will have to be completed within a specified time-limit. It is proposed, in the Bill, to remove the time-limit with the result that initial fixation of minimum wages for any left-out categories in the existing scheduled employments or for any newly-added employment under section 27, can be undertaken at any time without reference to any time-limit. It is likely that the minimum wages as fixed for employees in certain mines or in Central Government factories may have to be borne from the Consolidated Fund of India. It is not, however, possible to forecast or estimate with any degree of accuracy what the employments will be in which minimum wage-fixation will involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India or what amount of expenditure involved is likely to be.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Salkia Transport Agency (P.) Ltd., 67 Haragunj Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Howrah District Bus Workers' Union, 4 Panchkori Mahanto Lane, Salkia, Howrah (Case No. VIII-213/60).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri N. C. Chatterjee, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Amar Prasad Chakrabarty, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 3812-I.R./IR/4L-72/59, dated the 22nd July 1960, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Salkia Transport Agency (P.) Ltd., 67 Haragunj Road, Salkia, Howrah (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Howrah District Bus Workers' Union, 4 Panchkori Mahanto Lane, Salkia, Howrah (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The following issue has been framed by Government for adjudication in this case :—

Whether the dismissal of Shri Surja Nandan Singh is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

The concerned workman Shri Surja Nandan Singh was a driver under the Company, and he worked as such for about 10 years. On the relevant date, i.e., on 30th November 1957, he was the driver attached to bus No. WBU 170. The Company's allegation is that Shri Singh by his negligent and careless driving caused a serious accident by dashing against the rear of another stationary bus (bus No. WBU 194) of the Company. Though there was no loss of life of any passenger, the damage caused was to the tune of Rs. 1,000. The Radiator and the Dynamo of the bus were damaged beyond repair. The Company, it is alleged, made an enquiry into the matter of this accident in presence of Shri Singh, was satisfied about his gross negligence and dismissed him on that ground

Shri Singh does not deny the factum of the accident, though, according to him, the damage caused was minor or slight. His contention is that the accident was not due to any negligence on his part, but due to some mechanical failure only at the relevant time. His contention is that there was defect in the brake and it did not function properly, and hence the bus went out of his control for no fault of his. Shri Singh contends that he was wrongly dismissed without any charge-sheet, notice or valid ground. There was no enquiry also in this respect by the Management.

It is nobody's case that any charge-sheet was issued against Shri Singh on the ground of alleged negligence. It is clear that no formal enquiry was made and Shri Singh was not formally allowed any opportunity to defend himself. No witness was formally examined by any Enquiring Officer and Shri Singh was not given opporunity to cross-examine any witness. Nor Shri Singh was given any chance to examine any expert witness in his defence. The Company's evidence is that its Mechanics examined the damaged bus soon after the accident in presence of Shri Singh and found no defect in the brake. The said Mechanics purported to submit a report also to the Management (vide Ext. B). Some other Officers also personally and informally enquired into the matter and submitted their own report (vide Exts. C and D), and the Management took action thereon without further enquiry. But all these enquiries, if any, at best tantamount to a preliminary enquiry only, and I may observe that such enquiry was not a proper and sufficient enquiry for taking an extreme step of dismissal of the driver Shri Singh. Rules of natural justi were thus not fully observed in this case. Full a legitimate opportunity was not given to the wo man concerned to defend himself. On 1st Dece ber 1957 Shri Singh also submitted a report to t Management stating that the accident was due brake-pedal getting stiff or hard (vide Ext. A But the Company afforded him no opportunity show that his allegation was correct. So, in fa no proper enquiry was held before Shri Singh w punished. But I may, however, point out tha cannot straightway set aside the order of dismis simply on the ground that there was no pro enquiry. Following the dictum laid down by th lordships of the Supreme Court in a case repor in A.I.R. 1960 (S.C.) Vol. 47, page 160, it n be said that in such circumstances it is incumb on the Tribunal to see on the evidence before it the action of the Company is justified. If enquiry has, in fact, been held by the employ the issue about the merit of the impugned order dismissal is at large before the Tribunal, and the evidence before it the Tribunal has to dec for itself whether the misconduct alleged is prov and if the answer is "yes", what would be proper order to make. In such a case, the po about exercise of managerial function does arise at all. Though no proper enquiry was m by the Management in this case, yet Company examined several witnesses before this Tribu Admittedly, Shri Subal Chandra Kumar and S Debendra Nath Ghatak were the two Mecha attached to the Company. Both of them have b examined before me, and they swear that t examined the brake soon after the accident found it all right. No defect was noticed by th Shri Singh might not have been formally called them to watch the examination, yet he was pre there at the time. No reason has been sh before me why these two Mechanics should be believed. Their competence is not challenged. T have no grudge also against Shri Singh. uncorroborated statement of Shri Singh as to def in the brake is far outweighed by the stateme of these two witnesses. The accident must h taken place either on account of mechanical de in the brake or some fault of the driver. driver of the other bus had no contributory ne gence, for that bus was stationary from beh The allegation of mechanical defect having fai the other alternative becomes inevitable. S Singh is no doubt an experienced and good dri So, there must be some reason for this rash act or misconduct on his part, and this reason is very far to seek. Shri Singh's bus started fr the terminus three minutes earlier than the ot bus. But Shri Singh's bus was running late some reason, and the other bus which was runn all along in time bypassed Shri Singh's bus, reached the time-keeper at due time and ahead Shri Singh. I believe that Shri Singh tried overtake the other bus and bypass it also while was standing for taking time. I am afraid, accident took place on account of this rash act Shri Singh for bypassing the other bus. As so other lorry was coming from the opposite direct blocking his wrong side too, Shri Singh's swerved to the left and dashed against stationary bus causing damage to both. S Singh has failed to produce any reliable evide or material to establish that the accident was really due to any mechanical trouble. He simply says that he noticed the defect in the brake when his bus was at a distance from the other bus. But if his statement be correct, I would expect him to apply hand brake promptly and stop the bus without trying to bypass the standing bus. To me, it appears that as he was running late, to bypass the other bus was his real intention. He could not clear out his own bus on account of a lorry from the opposite direction, and this caused the accident. An expert driver also may prove himself a bravado, and cause an accident like this. I may say that for a driver of a public conveyance having scores of passengers on its board, this rash and negligent act must be treated as a serious offence, for it might endanger the lives of many. It was only a stroke of fortune that no passenger got injured. So, I see no reason for sympathetic treatment of such cases. It cannot be held that the dismissal in this case was not a bona fide exercise of power by the Management. So after carefully considering all the facts and circumstances, I find that the Company had justification for dismissing the workman. Accordingly, I have no ground for interference with the order of dismissal of Shri Singh, and he is entitled to no relief.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri P. H. Kalyani, 9/4 Chowringhee Lane, Calcutta, an employee of Messrs. Air France, 41 Chowringh Road, Calcutta, against the above company. (Case No. 97/33A/1960.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Complainant: Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate, with Shri Satyendra Nath Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri R. Goswami, Asst. Legal Adviser, and Shri M. K. Mukherjee, Officer of Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by their order No. 1832-I.R./IR/4L-42/57, dated 4th May 1959, and addendum

No. 2516-I.R./IR/4L-42/57, dated 4th June 1959, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Air France and their workmen relating to certain issues to the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. During the pendency of that adjudication Shri P. H. Kalyani, an employee of that company, filed on 3rd June 1960 a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act against that company before that Tribunal. That Tribunal, as authorised by the Government of West Bengal notification No. 1916-I.R./IR/3A-1/58, dated 13th May 1958, transferred the complaint to this court on 15th June 1960 for disposal.

The case of Shri P. H. Kalyani, the complainant, briefly stated, is as follows:—

On 23rd April 1960 Messrs. Air France (hereinafter referred to as the company) issued against him a charge-sheet under the signature of the Station Manager of the above company in Calcutta wherein some imaginary and motivated charges were framed; he received the charge-sheet on 24th April 1960. He replied to the charge-sheet on 26th April 1960. An enquiry into the charges mentioned in the charge-sheet was scheduled to be held on 9th May 1960 by the same officer who issued the charge-sheet. The complainant objected to this in writing saying that the prosecutor could not be the enquiring officer. On 10th May 1960 the complainant again submitted in writing to the Station Manager that he should not hold the enquiry, as he would be called by the complainant as a witness on his behalf at the enquiry. No enquiry was held on 10th May 1960, though the complainant was present in his office on that day. On that day he was suddenly taken by the Station Manager into his room and was asked to sign an application in favour of the company against the Joint Secretary of the Union in whose case he had deposed before the First Industrial Tribunal. The complainant refused to do so. The Station Manager then shouted at him saying that he would sack him from the company. The threat was actually carried out and he was dismissed by a letter of the company, dated 28th May 1960. So the complainant contends that his dismissal is mala fide and as such unjustified.

In the letter of dismissal it has been stated that an application for approval of the dismissal was being filed by the company before the First Industrial Tribunal. The complainant was not furnished with any copy of that application, and so he is not aware whether any such application has been filed. Even if such an application has been filed that is not maintainable in law, as the complainant is directly connected with the dispute pending before the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication and as he is a "protected workman". So the complainant contends that the company has violated the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The company, on the other hand, maintains that the presnt complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable, as there has been no violation of the provision of section 33 of the above Act. On the day on which the order of dismissal was communicated to the complainant an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act approval of dismissal was filed before the Fi Industrial Tribunal. The misconducts for wh the complainant has been dismissed are connected with the dispute pending for adjudi tion before the Tribunal. The complainant is a "protected workman".

As to the circumstances leading to the dismis of the complainant, the company asserts that charge-sheet was issued to the complainant gross dereliction of duty after making prelin nary enquiries, and characterising the charges imaginary and motivated is an untruth. It true that the complainant made an objection to the enquiry being held by the Station Manag but the objection was overruled, and he w asked to participate in the proceedings of t enquiry held on 9th May 1960, but the complai ant did not do so. On 10th May 1960 a furth enquiry was held; the complainant was present the beginning but refuse to stay on.; so t enquiry was held in his absence. The compan denies the allegation made by the complainan that he was asked by the Station Manager to fil any application against the Joint Secretary the Union. So the company contends that t dismissal of the complainant is justified.

So the points for determination are—

(i) whether the present complaint under section 33A is maintainable;

(ii) whether the dismissal of the complainant is justified?

Point No. 1: It appears from the arguments of both sides that the decision of point No. 1 depends on the decision of the following questions:—

(a) whether the company filed a valid application under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act for approval of the dismissal;

(b) whether the misconducts for which the complainant has been dismissed are connected with the dispute pending before the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

(c) whether the complainant is a "protected workman".

(a)—It appears from evidence that the company filed an application under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act for approval of the dismissal on the day on which the dismissal was communicated to the complainant. Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate, appearing for the complainant has argued that the application ought to have been filed before effecting of the dismissal. In support of his argument he has referred to a decision of the Bombay High Court in the case of Premier Automobiles Ltd. versus Ram Chandra Bhimaya Polkam reported at page 443 of L.L.J. 1960 Volume 1. In that case the Bombay High Court has held that an application under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act should be made before dismissal. This decision has been followed by Gujrat High Court in its decision in the case of India Extractions Private Ltd. reported at page 22 of A.I.R., Gujrat, February 1961. But a contrary view has been held by Mr. Justice Modi of Rajasthan High Court in the case of Associated Cement Company Ltd. That decision has been reported at page 810 of L.L.J. 1959, Volume II. The decisions of Bombay and Gujrat High Courts rest on the phrases "has been paid" and "has been made" in the present perfect tense appearing in the proviso to section 33(2)(b). On account of those phrases, those two High Courts have held that the words "action taken" appearing in the above proviso should be read as "action proposed to be taken". But if it was the intention of the Legislature that an application under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act should be filed before dismissal, the Legislature could have easily used the words "to be taken" instead of the word "taken", further such an intention could also be made clear by the use of the word "until" in place of the word "unless" appearing in that proviso. As at present worded, the proviso is no doubt a little self-contradictory; but if the two phrases in the present perfect tense mentioned by me above be read in the present indefinite tense, i.e., as "is paid" and "is made", the meaning of the proviso would be clear without any great straining of its language. Furthr the intention of the Legislature in enacting section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act is not to compel an employer to wait for approval of its action; the Bombay High Court or the Gujrat High Court has not said that the employer should wait for the approval. In that case it is not understood what benefit would ensure to the workman concerned if the employer is compelled to file the application under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act before the dismissal. So I agree with the decision of Mr. Justice Modi of Rajasthan High Court that an application under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act should be filed simultaneously with the dismissal or within a reasonable time thereafter. In the present case the application under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act was made on the same day on which the dismissal was communicated. So I hold that the application was validly made

(b) The award of the First Industrial Tribunal in the dispute referred to above was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of 16th June 1960. It appears therefrom that none of the issues involved in that dispute is connected with the misconducts for which the complainant has been dismissed. So I answer the question (b) in the negative.

(c) The only evidence which the complainant has adduced in support of its contention that he is a "protected workman" in a letter, dated 6th March 1959, written to the Manager, Air France, by the Vice-President of the Union, wherein the complainant has been shown as the Joint Secretary of the Union and the Manager has been requested to recognise him along with others mentioned in that letter as "protected workman". The company replied pointing out a certain legal defect in that letter. There is no evidence as to what took place later. Government of West Bengal have framed rules as to recognition of "protected workmen" by employers. It appears therefrom that there must be a positive action on the part of an employer in regard to recognition of an employee as a "protected workman". In the present case the complainant has failed to produce any evidence to show that he was recognised as a "protected workman" by the company. So I hold that he is not a "protected workman".

In view of my above decisions on the questions (a), (b) and (c) raised above, I hold that the present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable.

Point No. 2: It is the common case of both sides that an enquiry about the charge-sheet issued to the complainant was to be held on 9th May 1960; it is also the common case of both sides that on that day the complainant objected to Station Manager holding the enquiry and that objection was over ruled by the Station Manager. As to 10th May 1960 the company's case is that the complainant was present at the beginning of the enquiry held on that date and later left, while the complainant's case is that no enquiry was held on that date. On a consideration of the evidence adduced on both sides I hold that the version of the company in respect of what took place on 10th May 1960 is true. Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate appearing for the complainant, has argued that there has been a violation of the principles of natural justice in that Mr G. Pages, the Station Manager who issued the charge-sheet held the enquiry. In support of his argument he has referred to a decision of the Supreme Court in the case of State of U.P. versus Md. Noon reported at page 73 of Supreme Court Appeals, 1958. But that case is not on all fours with the present case. In that case the Enquiring Officer acted both as a witness and as a Judge. In the present case the contention of Shri Sengupta is that Mr. G. Pages acted both as a prosecutor and as a Judge, and as such there has been a violation of the principles of natural justice. Technically speaking a person who issues a charge-sheet may be called a prosecutor; but for practical purposes a prosecutor should mean a person at whose instance a particular proceeding is started. To take an example, a head clerk makes a complaint against a clerk working under him to the Officer-in-charge of an office; that officer issues a charge-sheet against the clerk complained against. In that case the head clerk and not the officer should be called the prosecutor. In the present case Mr. G. Pages issued the charge-sheet against the complainant on certain facts being brought to his notice; he is not personally involved in those incidents. So it cannot be said that there has been a violation of the priciples of natural justice by Mr. G. Pages holding the enquiry in this case. Of course, the position has become a little different in that before the enquiry the complainant objected to Mr. G. Pages holding the enquiry. In order to be shown as being above board Mr. G. Pages ought to have given greater consideration to the objection of the complainant instead of overruling it straightway. Even if it be held that there has been a violation of the principles of natural justice by Mr. G. Pages holding the enquiry, that itself does not prove the dismissal of the complainant to be unjustified. It has been held by the Supreme Court in several cases including the case of Phulbari Tea Estate reported at page 633 of L.L.J. 1959, Volume II, that if a domestic enquiry has been vitiated, the employer can adduce evidence before a Tribunal is support of its action. So I now turn to the evidence adduced before me.

The charges against the complainant are that on one day he made a mistake in the preparation of a load sheet and on another day he made a mistake in the preparation of a balance chart. He has not denied that he committed the above mistakes. The company has adduced evidence that those mistakes, if they had not been detected in time, could lead to the crash of the Aircraft concerned killing many persons. The complainant has not been able to show that those mistakes could not have those consequences. His contention is that he was overworked and that the time allotted to him for doing the work was so short that such mistakes could occur. His further contention is that there are other persons whose duties it was to check the load sheets and balance charts prepared by him. His lawyer Shri D. L. Sengupta has drawn my attention to page 105 of Indian Aircraft Manual wherein it has been stated that the preparation of a load sheet is the duty of a person who superintends loading into an Aircraft. The complainant has stated in his evidence that he had nothing to do with the superintending of loading. So Shri Sengupta has contended that the preparation of a load sheet was not a duty of the complainant. It is not clear from evidence whether the complainant was aware of the rule to which Shri Sengupta has referred. If he was aware, it was normally his duty to tell his superior officer that he could not be compelled to do a work which was not a part of his duty. But having undertaken to do such a responsible work he should not have on any plea committed a mistake which involved loss of lives. Shri Sengupta has also drawn my attention to page 15 of the Manual of Civil Aviation Department wherein the responsibility of the pilot of a Aircraft has been described. It appears therefrom that it is the duty of a pilot to check a load sheet and a balance chart. This has been admitted in the evidence adduced on behalf of the company. Actually it appears from the evidence that in the case of one of the two mistakes committed by the complainant, the mistake was detected by the pilot. The complainant has also contended that it is also the duty of the Station Manager to check a load sheet and a balance chart, though this has been denied by Mr. G. Pages. Even if it be held that it was the duty of the Station Manager to check loads sheet and balance charts and that in the present case the present Station Manager did not check the load sheet and the balance chart in question, the Station Manager ought to be punished for nonperformance of his duty, but that cannot absolve the complainant of the charge of committing mistakes committed by him. Shri D. L. Sengupta has urged some other considerations in mitigation of the gravity of the mistakes committed by the complianant. Shri Sengupta has argued that to err is human. I cannot disagree with him in such a truism; but at the same time I would also hold that it is only human for an employer to refuse to have in his employment a person who is prone to commiting mistakes involving loss of lives. Another consideration urged by Shri Sengupta is that the two flights in connection with which the complainant made the mistakes were of another company, viz., Lufthansa and not of Messrs. Air France, the company which is the employer of the complainant. I do not see how this can be a mitigating circumstance. There is nothing in the condition of service of the complainant that he cannot be asked to handle any flight except that of Air France. If he thought that it was not his duty to handle a flight of Lufthansa, he could raise an objection then and there, but he did not do so. There might have been some substance in this argument, if for handling the flights of Lufthansa the complainant had to overwork himself. As a matter of fact the complainant has raised the plea of overwork as an excuse for committing the mistakes. But the oral and documentary evidence adduced in support of the company clearly shows that the complainant had not to work beyond scheduled hours of work. So the plea of overwork fails.

The most important plea on behalf of the complainant is that similar mistakes were made by Mr. I. C. Kay, another Traffic Officer of the company; but he was simply warned and not dismissed for those mistakes. The contention of the company is that the mistakes committed by Mr. Kay were of a minor nature and that the complainant also was warned previously for similar mistakes. Exhibits 2, 2(a) and 2(b) are the copies of the charge-sheets issued by Mr. Kay. In Ext. 2(b) the company does not say that mistakes mentioned therein are such as to cause crash of the Aircraft or loss of human beings. The mistake mentioned in Ext. 2(a)is stated to involve the safety of passengers. The mistake mentioned in Ext. 2, is in respect of a load sheet; but there the mistake involves 800 kgs., whereas the mistake committed by the complainant on 30th January 1960, in respect of the load sheet prepared by him involves 10,000 kgs. So the company can reasonably say that the mistakes committed by the complainant on 30th January 1960 and 16th March 1960 are much more serious than the mistake committed by Mr. Kay. In support of the contention that the management has made a discrimination against him, the complainant has contended that Mr. Pages became angry with him on account of his deposing in a Customs case and in the case before the First Industrial Tribunal. But it is on evidence that other employees also deposed against the company in that case before the First Industrial Tribunal; so the fact that the complainant deposed in that case is not of any importance. But the statement in the Customs case is important in that his statement was partly responsible for the infliction of a fine on Mr. Pages in that case. So the contention of the complainant that Mr. Pages became angry with the complainant for his statement in the Customs' case cannot be brushed aside lightly. But it is not the case of the complainant that Mr. Pages brought false charges against him. The only question is whether the dismissal recommended by Mr. Pages to his higher authority is a punishment comensurate with the gravity of the mistake committed by the complainant. The complainant has also raised the plea of victimisation by pointing out that though the mistakes committed by him place as early as on 30th January 1960 and March 1960, the charge-sheet was issued to on 23rd April 1960. But is appears from lence that Mr. Pages came to know of those takes only from a letter, dated 12th April 1960, he Station Manager of Lufthansa, in the flights which the mistakes were committed. So this y in the issue of the charge-sheet does not any motive of victimisation on the part of Pages.

o sum up, the complainant has not been able isprove the allegation of the company that the akes committed by him were serious, in that involved crash of the Aircraft and loss of an lives. His contention is that he was over-ed, the preparation of a load sheet and a nce chart was not strictly his duty, the flights uestion were not of his employer, Messrs. Air ce, other people ought to have detected his akes and so on. Relying on those contentions as sought to convey the impression that he was nised. As I have discussed above none his contentions stands scrutiny. As the mistakes committed by him were of a very grave nature, I cannot find any fault with the company if it has dismissed him on account of committing such mistakes. Hence I hold that the dismissal of the complainant Shri P. H. Kalyani is justified. As such he is entitled to no relief.

(b) divide the total by a number which exceeds by 1 the number of vacancies to be filled; and

(6) The process directed by this rule shall be repeated on the successive exclusions one after another of the candidates lowest on the poll until such vacancy is filled either by the election of a candidate with the quota or as hereinafter provided.

(8) If two or more candidates are lowest on the poll and each has the same value of votes at all counts the returning officer shall decide by lot which candidate shall be excluded.

SCHEDULE

(See rule 83)

Illustration of the procedure as to the counting of votes at, and t declaration of the result of, an election conducted on the system of the sing transferable vote in accordance with the provisions of Chapter VI of Part I

Assume that there are seven members to be elected, sixteen candidate and one hundred and forty electors.

The valid ballot papers are arranged in separate parcels according t the first preference recorded for each candidate, and the papers in ea parcel counted.

Let it be assumed that the result is as follows:—

A	...	...	...	...	...	12
B	...	..	...	...	...	8
C	...	...	...	...	...	6
D	...	...	...	...	...	9
E	...	...	...	...	...	10
F	...	...	...	...	...	7
G	...	...	...	...	...	4
H	...	...	.	...	...	19
I	...	...	...	...	...	13
J	...	...	...	...	...	5
K	...	...	...	...	...	14
L	...	...	...	...	...	8
M	...	...	...	...	...	10
N	...	...	...	...	...	6
O	...	...	...	...	...	4
P	...	...	...	...	...	5
				Total	...	140

Each valid ballot paper is deemed to be of the value of one hundre and the value of the votes obtained by the respective candidates are a shown in the first column of the result sheet.

The values of all the papers are added together and the total 14,000 i divided by eight (i.e., the number which exceeds by one the number of vacancies to be filled) and 1,751 (i.e., the quotient 1,750 increased by one) is the number sufficient to secure the return of a member and is called the quota.

The operation may be shown thus:—

$$\text{Quota} = \frac{14,000}{8} + 1 = 1,750 + 1 = 1,751$$

The candidate H, the value of whose votes exceeds the quota, is declared elected.

As the value of the papers in H's parcel exceeds the quota, his surplus must be transferred. His surplus is 149, i.e., 1,900 less 1,751.

The surplus arises from original votes, and therefore, the whole of H's papers are divided into sub-parcels according to the next preferences recorded thereon, a separate parcel of the exhausted papers being also made. Let it be assumed that the result is as follows:—

	Papers
B is marked as next available preference on ...	7
D is marked as next available preference on ...	4
E is marked as next available preference on ...	4
F is marked as next available preference on ...	3
Total of unexhausted papers	18
No. of exhausted papers	1
Total of papers	19

The values of the papers in the sub-parcels are as follows:—

B	700
D	400
E	400
F	300
Total value of unexhausted papers ...	1,800
Value of exhausted papers ...	100
Total value ..	1,900

The value of the unexhausted papers is 1,800 and is greater than the surplus. This surplus, is, therefore, transferred as follows:—

All the unexhausted papers are transferred, but at a reduced value, which is ascertained by dividing the surplus by the number of unexhausted papers.

The reduced value of all the papers, when added together, with the addition of any value lost as the result of the neglect of fractions, equals the surplus. In this case the new value of each paper transferred is the residue of the value of each paper (100—8=92), being required by H for the purpose of constituting his quota, i.e., one exhausted paper value 100 plus the value (1,656) of 18 unexhauted papers.

$$\frac{149 \text{ (the surplus)}}{18 \text{ (the number of unexhausted papers)}}$$

These values of the sub-parcels transferred are:—

B=56 (i.e., seven papers at the value of 8);

D=32 (i.e., four papers at the value of 8);

E=32 (i.e., four papers at the value of 8);

F=24 (i.e., three papers at the value of 8);

These operations can be shown on a transfer sheet as follows:

Transfer Sheet

Value of surplus (H's) to be transferred		149
Number of papers in H's parcel		19
Value of each paper in parcel		100
Number of unexhausted papers		18
Value of unexhausted papers		1,800
New value of each paper transferred = Surplus ... ... / number of unexhausted papers ...	149 / 18 = 8

Names of Candidates marked as the next available preference	Numbers of papers to be transferred	Value of sub-papers to be transferred
B	7	56
D	4	32
E	4	32
F	3	24
Total ...	18	144
Number of exhausted papers	1	..
Loss of value owing to neglect of fractions ...	1	5
Total ..	19	149

The values of the sub-parcels are added to the values of the votes already credited to the candidates, B, D, E and F. This operation is shown on the result sheet.

There being no further surplus, the candidate lowest on the poll has now to be excluded. G and O both have 400.

The Returning Officer casts lots and G is chosen to be excluded.

Being original votes, G's papers are transferred at the value of 100 each. A who was marked as next preference on two papers receives 200, while D and E were each next preference on one paper and receiving 100 each. O now being lowest is next excluded and his 400 is similarly transferred to I, B and K, I receiving 200 and B and K 100 each.

This leaves J and P lowest with 500 each and J is chosen by lot for exclusion first. His papers are transferred at the value of 100 each to A, B, D and I, the three first named receiving 100 each, and I who had the next preference on two papers receiving 200. P is then excluded and his papers are transferred to E, L and K, the two first named receiving 100 each, and K who had the next preference on three papers, receiving 300.

K now exceeds the quota and is declared elected.

Prior to further exclusion, K's surplus of 49 has to be distributed.

The sub-parcel last transferred to K consisted of 3 votes transferred at the value of 100 each. This sub-parcel is examined; there are no exhausted papers and B, F and I are each next preference on one paper and one paper is transferred to each of them at a reduced value determined by dividing the surplus (49) by the number of unexhausted papers (3). B, F and I accordingly receive 16 each.

The process of exclusion is now proceeded with.

C and N have 600 each, and C is chosen by lot for exclusion first. He has 6 original votes; B, D and E are each next preference on two papers, and each receives 200. N is then excluded; A is next preference on 3 of his papers, and receives 300; F, I and L are each next preference on one paper and receive 100 each.

This brings A and I above the quota and they are declared elected. Their surplus have now to be distributed and I's surplus which is the larger, 65, is dealt with first.

The last sub-parcel transferred to I consisted of one paper transferred at the value of 100, D is next preference on this paper, and receives the whole surplus of 65.

A's surplus of 49 is then dealt with. The last sub-parcel transferred him consisted of 3 papers transferred at the value of 100 each. B was ne preference on two of these papers and E on one, and the papers are tran ferred accordingly. The value to be transferred is 16 per paper, i.e., th surplus (49), divided by the number of the unexhausted (3). B according receives 32 and E 16.

No other candidate having reached the quota, the process of exclusio is proceeded with, and F, who is now lowest with 840, is excluded.

His seven original ovtes are transferred first. B, D and E are nex preference on three, two and two papers, respectively, and receive respectivel 300, 200 and 200.

The transferred votes are next transferred in the order of their transfe to F. The 3 votes received at the value of eight each at the distributio of H's surplus are trasnferred at the same value to L who was next preferenc on all 3 papers. The vote valued at sixteen received by F at the distributio of K's surplus, goes at the same value to M, who was next preference on that paper. The vote transfered at the value of 100 on the exclusion of N is then transferred at the same value to D, who thus receives a total of 300.

No continuing candidate having yet reached the surplus, N, who is now lowest with 1,016 is excluded.

His ten original votes are transferred first B and D are first preference on three papers each, and E and L on two each. B and D accordingly receive 300 each, and E and L 200 each. This brings B, D and E above the quota, and they are declared elected. The requisite number of candidates having now been elected, the election is at an end, and it is unnecessary to proceed to the transfer of M's transferred votes.

Full details are shown in the result sheet.

5. Section 23 of the said Act is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The rates of amusements tax are at present expressed in annas and pies in the Bengal Amusements Tax Act, 1922. As a result of the enactment of the Indian Coinage (Amendment) Act, 1955, these rates are now required to be expressed in decimal coinage as some of the coins in the anna-pie series have already ceased to be legal tender and others will cease to be legal tender shortly. The Bill therefore seeks to introduce these amendments by converting the rates of tax in multiples of five naye paise. The rates of amusements tax for cinema exhibitions in respect of certain categories of seats have been enhanced as our financial resources have to be augmented to meet the needs of the Third Plan. Certain minor amendments are also proposed to be made to make the references in the Act up-to-date.

No additional expenditure is envisaged for giving effect to the provisions of the amending Bill.
